

A CURATED BUYING DOSSIER

The Saturday Folio

Ten candidates worth comparing, led by an oversized Newtown two-bed-two-bath for the inner-west growth case and a Zetland 'Allegra' with ducted air-con confirmed — both inspecting today. The other eight are inspect-first card reads after Domain's per-listing pages rate-limited this run; several also open today.

The Brief

Mandate

OBJECTIVE	Buy
BUDGET	Buy to $1,100,000
BEDROOMS	2+
BATHROOMS	1+
PARKING	1+
REGION	Inner-south / eastern / lower north shore / inner-west (to Marrickville), within ~20min of the CBD

Owner-occupier with capital-growth priority. A low-maintenance 1–2 bedroom apartment under $1.1M, air-conditioning essential (installed or installable), secure parking, within roughly a 20-minute drive of the CBD. Open across the inner-south (lives in Zetland, likes it), eastern suburbs, lower north shore and the inner-west as far as Marrickville – not the outer/greater west.

STRONG PREFERENCES

- Air-conditioning (installed or installable)
- Secure car space
- Within ~20 min drive of the CBD
- 1–2 bedrooms, under $1.1M
- Capital-growth fundamentals (scarcity over oversupply)

DEAL-BREAKERS

- × Outer / greater west
- × No parking
- × Aircon impossible to install
- × Flood / fire overlay

This is a disciplined buyer's market at the budget end, and the macro backdrop rewards patience, not chasing. The RBA cash rate is 4.35% after three hikes in 2026 (February, March and May), and the Board held in June while the tightening flows through – the next decision is 11 August. CPI is still 4.6% over the year to March (3.3% trimmed-mean), above the 2–3% target, so holding costs stay elevated and borrowing capacity is capped. Sydney dwelling forecasts for 2026 sit flat-to-negative. That's exactly the environment where a prepared buyer with cash headroom does well below $1.1M – if they buy scarcity, not generic stock.

LOCAL AGENCY / METRO MARKET COMMENTARY · 2026-05-01

<https://www.sydneymetro.info/>

Read the forecasts with a cold eye. The headline house numbers are soft: ANZ has Sydney dwelling values falling about 0.7% across 2026 before a 2.6% recovery in 2027, while SQM's range runs from -1% to -6% depending on where rates land. Westpac (+3%) and CBA (+2%) are more bullish, so the honest read is wide uncertainty centred on roughly flat. The more useful signal for you sits underneath it: affordability pressure is pushing buyers down the ladder out of houses and into apartments, and well-located, established units are the relatively defensive corner of the market. Rental vacancy has tightened to about 1.1% – firmly a landlord's market – so any of these apartments has a real income fallback. Net: the budget end is supported but not booming. Inspect the best assets, negotiate hard on the top of every guide, and don't stretch for arterial high-density towers just because they sit on a Metro line – scarcity is what defends value when the tide is flat.

AT A GLANCE

Randwick / eastern	~$1.25M	–	–	–

THE FORCES AT WORK

CASH RATE 4.35% — HELD IN JUNE

The cash rate sits at 4.35% after three 25bp hikes in 2026 (Feb, Mar, May). The Board held unanimously in June to let the tightening flow through, and the next decision is 11 August. The near-term bias is a wary pause; economists are split on whether the next move is a hold-and-cut or another hike if energy/fuel costs feed through. Either way, borrowing capacity stays capped – which is what keeps the budget end from running away from you.

INFLATION CPI 4.6% / CORE 3.3%

CPI rose 4.6% over the year to March (up from 3.7% to February), with the quarter up 1.4%. Trimmed-mean (core) is 3.3% – both above the 2–3% target. Housing (+6.5%) and transport (+8.9%) are the biggest contributors. Sticky inflation is what's keeping the RBA on hold-or-hike rather than cutting, so don't budget on rate relief rescuing the market this year.

SYDNEY UNITS DEFENSIVE VS HOUSES

Dwelling forecasts are flat-to-negative for 2026 (ANZ -0.7%, SQM -1% to -6%, Westpac/CBA mildly positive), with a 2027 recovery the consensus. But units are the relatively resilient slice: affordability switching is moving demand from houses into apartments, and quality, scarce stock in lifestyle/transport pockets holds up best. Generic oversupply does not – which is the whole argument for buying Newtown/Randwick over a Green Square tower.

RENTAL VACANCY ~1.1% — TIGHT

SQM has Sydney vacancy around 1.1% (April), tightened from 1.3% a year ago – firmly under the 2% landlord-market threshold. Rents stay supported, so every apartment on this list has a genuine income fallback if you ever needed to lease rather than sell. It's the one unambiguously positive force in the mix.

THE TRAJECTORY

Base case for the next fortnight: do not chase, and let scarcity guide the ranking. Lead with the two enriched picks, both of which inspect today – the Newtown oversized two-bed-two-bath for the inner-west growth case (confirm air-con and treat the auction guide as a floor), and Meriton's 'Allegra' in Zetland for the confirmed ducted air-con and home-turf liveability (accept the lower growth ceiling). Treat the eight card-only listings as inspect-first comparables – several open today, so this afternoon is a chance to walk the North Sydney Metro stock and the Marrickville/Zetland value two-beds back to back. Use the 11 August RBA decision as the next macro checkpoint; until then, negotiate hard on the top of every guide. One honesty note: today's fresh crawl returned full search results clean across every suburb (no access block), but Domain's per-listing detail pages hit a rate-limit after the first two enrichments this run – so the two leads carry full detail and the rest are card-level reads to verify in person before they out-rank the leads.

CONFIDENCE

WHY THIS LEADS

- The standout. An oversized 114sqm two-bed two-bath in Newtown, on King Street's doorstep, in the inner-west scarcity pocket that defends value best in a soft market. Inspecting today at 11:15.
- Price read: unknown.
- Risk read: Internal area unclear.

NEXT MOVES

- Inspect in person · next open · Check light, noise, building condition, floorplan feel and air-conditioning.
- Keep warm: 633/96 Epsom Road, Zetland NSW 2017 if the top pick fails due diligence.
- Keep warm: 6/267 Miller Street if the top pick fails due diligence.

WATCH BEFORE COMMITTING

- Two open questions before you commit. First, air-conditioning is NOT named in the listing or features – your one non-negotiable – so confirm a system is installed or that strata permits a split at the 11:15 inspection. Second, it's an auction, so the ~$1.05M guide is a floor, not a ceiling; set your limit off the comps, not the campaign.

WHY THIS MIGHT BE WRONG

- Comparable evidence is thin, so the price call can move quickly.
- Critical due-diligence items still need human verification.

THE VERDICT

The standout. An oversized 114sqm two-bed two-bath in Newtown, on King Street's doorstep, in the inner-west scarcity pocket that defends value best in a soft market. Inspecting today at 11:15.

Why it fits the brief

This is the strongest capital-growth fit the run produced. A fourth-floor two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment in Newtown with a building area of ~114sqm – genuinely oversized for a two-bedder, not a compact floorplan dressed up. It clears every hard criterion: two beds, two baths, a secure car space, lift and secure entry. Open-plan living spills to a large balcony with leafy district views, over a stone gas kitchen, timber floors and built-in robes.

The growth case is the location. Newtown is exactly the tightly-held, lifestyle-led inner-west the brief favours – walk to King Street's café and dining strip, transport and parklands – and that quality of address is the part of the market holding up while generic high-density stock softens. Recent inner-west two-bed sales sit around the $1.07M Marrickville median and

- ✓ ~114sqm building area – oversized two-bed, rare at this price
- ✓ Two baths + secure car space + lift – every hard criterion met
- ✓ Large balcony, leafy district outlook, stone gas kitchen, timber floors
- ✓ Walk to King Street dining, transport and parklands
- ✓ Inner-west scarcity – the defensive end of a soft market
- ✓ Inspects TODAY 11:15–11:45 (also Tue 30 Jun 13:00)

run well past it for quality stock, so the auction guide near $1.05M is fair-to-sharp for the size. It inspects today at 11:15.

ONE WATCH-OUT

Two open questions before you commit. First, air-conditioning is NOT named in the listing or features – your one non-negotiable – so confirm a system is installed or that strata permits a split at the 11:15 inspection. Second, it's an auction, so the ~$1.05M guide is a floor, not a ceiling; set your limit off the comps, not the campaign.

From the listing

Positioned on the fourth floor of a contemporary security building, this oversized apartment combines generous proportions, quality finishes and a wonderfully peaceful outlook. Bathed in natural light, the open plan living and dining area flows seamlessly to a private balcony with leafy district views, creating an effortless indoor outdoor lifestyle. A designer stone kitchen, spacious bedroom accommodation and stylish bathrooms deliver everyday comfort, while the location places you moments from King Street's vibrant café culture, transport and parklands. Offering space, privacy and convenience in equal measure, this is modern Newtown living at its finest. Features • Fourth floor position with leafy outlook • Expansive open plan living and dining • Large balcony for entertaining and relaxation • Stone kitchen with gas cooking • Quality appliances and ample storage • Spacious bedrooms with built in wardrobes • Stylish bathrooms with premium finishes • Timber flooring throughout living areas • Secure building with lift access • Moments to King Street and transport

THE VERDICT

The confirmed-aircon pick. A north-facing two-bed two-bath in Meriton's 'Allegra' with ducted air-con named in the listing, city views to Sydney Tower, and an inspection today at 14:15 — on your home turf.

Why it fits the brief

The cleanest hard-criteria match on the list. A north-facing two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment in Meriton's 'Allegra' at Green Square — the precinct you live in and like. It clears everything: two beds, two baths, secure basement parking, and crucially the description names 'ducted air conditioning', so your one non-negotiable is confirmed installed rather than left to a strata gamble.

Beyond the checklist it has the liveable extras: open-plan living onto an entertainer's balcony with city views of Sydney Tower, a stone gas kitchen, two robed bedrooms, designer bathroom, internal laundry, and resort facilities (indoor pool, spa, sauna, gym, rooftop gardens) with on-site management. It sits directly opposite Gunyama Park aquatic centre and walks to Green Square Station and East Village. It inspects today at 14:15.

- ✓ Ducted air-conditioning CONFIRMED in the listing — must-have satisfied
- ✓ North-facing, city views to Sydney Tower, entertainer's balcony
- ✓ Two baths + secure basement car space — every hard criterion met
- ✓ Opposite Gunyama Park; walk to Green Square Station + East Village
- ✓ Resort facilities: indoor pool, spa, sauna, gym, on-site management
- ✓ Inspects TODAY 14:15–14:45 — your home patch

ONE WATCH-OUT

The honest growth caveat: Zetland / Green Square is the most heavily-supplied precinct on this list – 5,000+ new units built since 2016 – so scarcity isn't doing the heavy lifting here the way it is in Newtown or the eastern suburbs. It's the most liveable, lowest-risk buy on the checklist, but the amenities building carries a material strata levy (pull the s184 and last two AGMs), and the capital-growth ceiling is lower than the scarcer pockets. Buy it for the home, not the speculation.

WHY THIS MIGHT BE WRONG

– Critical due-diligence items still need human verification.

THE VERDICT

The infrastructure play. A two-bed two-bath off Miller Street in North Sydney, auction guide $1.1M, in the Victoria Cross Metro precinct that's commanding a 5–10% access premium — the strongest growth thesis on the list.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment at 6/267 Miller Street, North Sydney – off the Pacific Highway noise line, in the heart of the Victoria Cross Metro catchment. The growth case is structural: the Metro opened in 2024 and apartments within a short walk of Victoria Cross are commanding a 5–10% premium, with North Sydney two-bedders now banding $1.05M–$1.35M. Two baths, secure parking and a well-marketed campaign (ten photos, multiple opens) on the card.

At a $1.1M auction guide it's at the top of budget, but it's buying into the best-supported infrastructure story in the brief. The catch is information: the detail page didn't enrich this run, so there's no full description, no confirmed air-con and

- ✓ North Sydney – Victoria Cross Metro precinct, 5–10% access premium
- ✓ Two beds + two baths + secure car space (card)
- ✓ 6/267 Miller Street – off the Pacific Highway noise line
- ✓ Well-marketed: 10 photos, multiple opens

no strata figure. On fundamentals it belongs near the front –

ONE WATCH-OUT

THE VERDICT

Eastern-suburbs land. A two-bed two-bath on Belmore Road, Randwick — blue-chip, tightly-held, the strongest long-run growth pocket on the list. A well-marketed campaign, but a card-only read for now.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment at 6/57-63 Belmore Road, Randwick – blue-chip eastern-suburbs land that is tightly held and a historically strong capital-growth performer. The two-bath format defends resale, a secure car space is on the card, and the campaign has run a string of opens, which usually signals a genuine sale.

Randwick gives you the hospital and university employment anchors, light rail to the CBD and a short run to Coogee – the kind of fundamentals that compound through a soft patch. Recent Randwick two-bed sales cluster well above $1.1M, so a sub-$1.1M two-bath here would be at the value end of the suburb. Detail didn't enrich this run, so read the description and walk it before ranking.

- ✓ Randwick – tightly-held eastern suburbs, strongest long-run growth
- ✓ Two beds + two baths + secure car space (card)

THE VERDICT

Metro-closest. A two-bed two-bath ~200m from Victoria Cross Metro, inspecting today at 14:00 — maximum access premium, but it's a Pacific Highway tower, so weigh noise and density.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment at 811/150 Pacific Highway, North Sydney – about 200m from the new Victoria Cross Metro, which is as close to the access premium as this list gets. Two baths, secure parking, dual balconies and a separate study were noted on the card. It inspects today at 14:00, so it's an easy one to verify in person this afternoon.

The Metro adjacency is the whole case – fast CBD access and the demand upgrade that comes with it. The trade-off is the address: a large Pacific Highway tower means arterial noise and exactly the generic high-density profile the brief is wary of, so scarcity isn't on your side here. Card-only this run, so air-con and strata are unconfirmed.

- ✓ ~200m to Victoria Cross Metro – maximum access premium
- ✓ Two beds + two baths + secure car space, dual balconies + study (card)
- ✓ Inspects TODAY 14:00
- ✓ Fast CBD access via Metro

ONE WATCH-OUT

Pacific Highway tower: arterial noise and high-density – the opposite of the scarcity the brief favours, which caps the growth upside. Card-only: air-con and strata unconfirmed. Stand on the balcony and listen before you fall for the Metro line.

THE VERDICT

Inner-west, on the median. A two-bed two-bath on Wardell Road, Marrickville, guiding $1.05M–$1.15M and inspecting today at 13:00 — gentrifying lifestyle pocket, fair against the comps.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment at 250 Wardell Road, Marrickville guiding $1.05M–$1.15M. Marrickville is the inner-west the brief explicitly allows – strong café and transport amenity, the Metro lifting connectivity, and a gentrification story that's still running. Two baths and secure parking on the card, and it inspects today at 13:00.

On price it's honest: recent Marrickville two-bed sales median around $1.075M (and up to $1.355M for quality), so the lower guide is roughly on the market and the upper is at budget. The two-bath format is the resilient one. Card-only this run, so confirm the detail and air-con in person – easy to do given today's open.

- ✓ Marrickville – inner-west, Metro-connected, gentrifying
- ✓ Two beds + two baths + secure car space (card)
- ✓ Guide $1.05M–$1.15M – on/just above the $1.075M suburb median
- ✓ Inspects TODAY 13:00

ONE WATCH-OUT

Upper guide nudges over budget – negotiate off the median, not the top. Card-only: air-con and strata unconfirmed. Note the dual unit numbers on the card (201 & 301) – confirm which apartment is actually for sale.

THE VERDICT

The value two-bedder. A two-bed two-bath on Levy Walk, Zetland, guiding $900k–$990k — the most headroom under budget on the list, inspecting today at 10:50.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment at 54/2 Levy Walk, Zetland guiding $900k-$990k – sub-$1M for a two-bath with parking, leaving real room under your $1.1M cap. It's on your home turf, walkable to Green Square and East Village, and it inspects today at 10:50.

The number is the appeal: it sits at the bottom of the Zetland two-bed band (recent 2/2 sales $970k-$1.22M), so on price it's sharp. The same caveat as the Allegra applies though – Zetland is the most heavily-supplied precinct on the list, so this is a comfortable, liquid home rather than a scarcity-growth play. Card-only this run, so confirm air-con, aspect and strata at the 10:50 open.

- ✓ $900k-$990k – most headroom under budget for a two-bath
- ✓ Two beds + two baths + secure car space (card)
- ✓ Zetland – your home patch, walk to Green Square + East Village
- ✓ Inspects TODAY 10:50

ONE WATCH-OUT

Zetland oversupply caps the growth upside – buy on liveability/value, not speculation. Card-only: air-con, aspect and strata unconfirmed. A low guide in a deep-stock suburb can mean a less-favoured aspect (light well / low floor) – check at the open.

THE VERDICT

Eastern value entry. A two-bed on Coogee Bay Road, Randwick, guiding $1.0M — blue-chip address with headroom under budget, but one bathroom and a card-only read.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom apartment at 12/46 Coogee Bay Road, Randwick guiding $1.0M — buying eastern-suburbs land with $100k of headroom under your cap. Coogee Bay Road puts you on the spine between Randwick and the beach, walkable to light rail and the village, secure parking on the card.

It's the value way into a suburb that usually trades dearer, and the scarcity case is strong. The compromises are a single bathroom (the two-bath picks defend resale better) and card-only data this run, so air-con and strata are unconfirmed. Worth an inspection for the address at the price.

- ✓ Randwick at a $1.0M guide — eastern land with budget headroom
- ✓ Walk to light rail, Randwick village and toward Coogee
- ✓ Secure car space on the card
- ✓ Tightly-held, scarcity-backed pocket

ONE WATCH-OUT

One bathroom. Card-only: air-con and strata unconfirmed. Confirm the guide isn't an underquote (Randwick two-beds often sell above $1.1M) and check air-con before ranking.

THE VERDICT

The rare double-parker. A two-bed on Warren Road, Marrickville with TWO car spaces — genuinely scarce in an apartment, and a real edge for resale and flexibility. Price on application, card-only.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom apartment at 3/58 Warren Road, Marrickville with two secure car spaces – a genuinely rare feature for an apartment in this band, and a meaningful resale and lifestyle edge (second car, storage, or a rentable space). Inner-west Marrickville location with the café and Metro amenity the brief likes.

Double parking is the headline. The unknowns are the price (on application – so the campaign is testing the market) and the detail, which didn't enrich this run, so air-con, bathroom count and strata are unconfirmed. Pin the agent on a guide and confirm the second space is on title, not a licence, before you get excited.

- ✓ Two secure car spaces – rare in an apartment, strong resale edge
- ✓ Marrickville – inner-west, Metro-connected, café culture
- ✓ On-brief 1–2 bed apartment with parking to spare

ONE WATCH-OUT

Price on application – get a real guide before investing time.
Card-only: air-con and strata unconfirmed. Confirm both car spaces are on title (not a shared licence) – that's the whole reason it's here.

THE VERDICT

Metro precinct, top of budget. A two-bed two-bath on Pacific Highway, North Sydney, guiding $1.09M–$1.15M, inspecting today at 10:30 — the access premium, but at the ceiling and another arterial address.

Why it fits the brief

A two-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment at 505/156 Pacific Highway, North Sydney guiding $1.09M-$1.15M – in the same Victoria Cross Metro catchment that's driving the precinct's access premium, with two baths and secure parking on the card. It inspects today at 10:30, so it's easy to line up against the other North Sydney picks this morning.

It's here as the Metro comparison rather than a front-runner: the lower guide just scrapes budget and the upper is over it, and like 150 Pacific Highway it's an arterial-facing tower, so you're paying for the Metro access while carrying the noise/density the brief is wary of. Card-only this run – air-con and strata unconfirmed.

- ✓ North Sydney – Victoria Cross Metro catchment, access premium
- ✓ Two beds + two baths + secure car space (card)
- ✓ Inspects TODAY 10:30
- ✓ Compare directly against 267 Miller St + 150 Pacific Hwy

ONE WATCH-OUT

Guide runs $1.09M–$1.15M – top scrapes over budget. Pacific Highway tower: arterial noise + high density. Card-only: air-con and strata unconfirmed. The Miller Street pick is the better-located NS two-bath.

Compiled by your buying agent on the Pi from today's fresh run – the full market crawled clean across every suburb with no access block. Market data is freshly researched (27 June): RBA 4.35% after three 2026 hikes and held in June (next call 11 August), CPI 4.6% to March (3.3% core), Sydney dwelling forecasts flat-to-negative for 2026 (ANZ -0.7%, recovery in 2027) with units the defensive slice, rental vacancy ~1.1% and tight. Two properties are fully detailed (description, features, agents, gallery); the other eight are search-card reads after Domain's detail pages rate-limited – confirm air-con (your one non-negotiable), strata and aspect in person before ranking them. Yields and outgoings are estimates; verify strata, council and contract terms before offering. Re-test the macro after the 11 August RBA decision.
