The Market

Rates are parked at 4.35% (next RBA call 11 Aug), and the 2026 unit story is two-speed: Sydney apartments are tipped up 4–7% for the year, but the inner-south and east sit at the moderate end (~3–6%) while the inner-west runs harder. Well-located boutique apartments are trading under replacement cost – which is exactly the window to buy the two-bedders in maturing precincts.

WHY THIS LEADS

- A 2-bed / 2-bath / 1-car in Zetland at an $850k ask is rare – a full $250k under budget. Either the sharpest value in the set or there's a strata/aspect catch. Worth being first through the door Saturday.

NEXT MOVES

- Inspect the standout first, then request contract and strata documents if it still feels right.
- Keep warm: 861/2 Cooper Place, Zetland NSW 2017 if the top pick fails due diligence.
- Keep warm: 16/1-5 Glen Street, Marrickville NSW 2204 if the top pick fails due diligence.

WATCH BEFORE COMMITTING

- An $850k guide on a Zetland 2/2/1 is sharp enough to warrant suspicion – check the floor level, the Epsom Rd frontage/aspect, and the strata levies + capital-works fund before you fall in love. Agent mobile/strata weren't pullable this run (site was rate-limiting) – get them at the inspection.

WHY THIS MIGHT BE WRONG

- No comparable valuation panel is attached to this payload.
- Risk scan is missing from the payload.

THE VERDICT

A 2-bed / 2-bath / 1-car in Zetland at an $850k ask is rare — a full $250k under budget. Either the sharpest value in the set or there's a strata/aspect catch. Worth being first through the door Saturday.

Why it fits the brief

This is dead-on brief in the one suburb you already know and rate. Dual bathrooms and a secure car space clear your must-haves outright, and the price sits ~$250k below your $1.1M ceiling — that headroom is pure optionality: a renovation buffer, a strata safety margin, or room to bid up if Saturday draws a crowd.

The growth story is Green Square itself — a renewal precinct that's now delivered (East Village retail, Gunyama aquatic centre, Joynton Park) rather than promised, five minutes from the station. Inner-south two-bedders in maturing precincts are exactly where the moderate-but-real 2026 unit growth is concentrated.

- ✓ Dual bathrooms + secure car space — clears your must-haves
- ✓ ~$250k under budget = renovation / bidding headroom
- ✓ 5-min walk to Green Square station & East Village
- ✓ Joynton Park at the door — good for Gulby
- ✓ Open Sat 11 Jul, 10:00am

THE VERDICT

A brand-new 2/2/1 in core Green Square — buy it for the finish and the lock-up-and-leave. The catch is the guide eats almost your whole budget, leaving no room to move.

Why it fits the brief

New build means low-maintenance living, current-code aircon and building amenity out of the box — squarely the lifestyle-first mandate. Cooper Place is core Green Square, so it rides the same precinct-maturation growth as the value pick, plus a new-stock premium.

The trade-off is headroom: at $985k–$1.08M it runs to your ceiling, so there's little buffer for strata surprises or a competitive campaign.

- ✓ Brand-new (tagged 'New') — current-code finishes + aircon
- ✓ Dual bath + car, single-level lock-up-and-leave
- ✓ Core Green Square / Cooper Place location
- ✓ Open Sat 11 Jul, 10:30am (right after the value pick)

ONE WATCH-OUT

Top of guide ($1.08M) leaves almost no buffer, and new-tower strata can run heavy – confirm the levies and exactly which floor/aspect you're buying. High unit number suggests a tower; ask about outlook.

WHY THIS MIGHT BE WRONG

- No comparable valuation panel is attached to this payload.
- Risk scan is missing from the payload.

The Inner-West Growth Bet — Going to Auction

TYPE

THE VERDICT

Marrickville keeps outrunning the eastern-suburbs unit market on growth. It's going to auction on 25 Jul, so treat the $900k guide as a floor, not a price — and set a hard ceiling before you walk in.

Why it fits the brief

Marrickville is the inner-west edge of your brief, and the 2026 data is blunt about it: affordable inner-west and western pockets are posting the double-digit growth while the premium east goes sideways. This is a 2-bed with parking and a single bath (meets your minimum) in the suburb doing the heavy lifting.

The lever here is the auction. It's a genuine growth bet, but the campaign controls the price discovery.

✓ Marrickville — inner-west growth corridor outperforming the east

✓ 2-bed + secure parking

✓ Inspection Thu 9 Jul, 4:00pm; Auction Sat 25 Jul, 1:30pm

✓ Glen St — quiet pocket walk to Marrickville Metro/rail

ONE WATCH-OUT

Auction guides on these campaigns routinely land 5–15% light – the real number could push past $1M. Decide your walk-away figure now. Single bathroom, and you'll want to see strata + the contract before bidding.

WHY THIS MIGHT BE WRONG

- No comparable valuation panel is attached to this payload.
- Risk scan is missing from the payload.

The Entry Play — New One-Bedder at Half the Budget

A305/132 Epsom Road, Zetland NSW 2017

BEDS

1

BATHS

1

CARS

TYPE

THE VERDICT

A new one-bedder at almost half your budget — best yield of the set and lowest risk. But one-bed capital growth trails two-bed; this is the rentable fallback or investment lens, not the forever home.

Why it fits the brief

Cheapest entry into Zetland, new stock, strong rental demand right on the Green Square doorstep. If the goal tilts toward yield, low outlay and lock-up-and-leave, it's compelling.

But against your owner-occupier + capital-growth brief it under-uses the budget and caps upside — one-bedders in large new complexes carry the least scarcity.

✓ New 1-bed on Epsom Rd — walk to Green Square

✓ Lowest outlay (~$650-715k) = strongest yield of the set

✓ Strong tenant demand if it ever flips to investment

ONE WATCH-OUT

One-bed in a big new complex = thin scarcity and softer growth. Only chase this if low outlay / rentability beats space and long-term capital growth for you.

WHY THIS MIGHT BE WRONG

- No comparable valuation panel is attached to this payload.
- Risk scan is missing from the payload.
